

PRESIDENT VISITS CAPITOL IN INTEREST OF LEGISLATION

Washington, July 18—Shortly after noon today President Wilson went to the capitol. It was the first visit he had made there in months. At the capitol the president conferred in his private room with Senator Kern, the Democratic leader. It was understood that the president is very desirous of having the workmen's compensation and child labor bills included in the legislative program. They were tracked by the cautious. It was announced at the White House last week that the president planned to write a letter to Senator Kern urging the adoption of the workman's compensation act and the child labor bill. Yesterday Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National committee stated that the president did not want to be formally notified of his nomination until congress had adjourned and it was intimated that a delay in adjournment was expected because of the president's insistence that these measures be passed. The president's visit to the capitol was entirely unexpected to administration leaders. When he reached the (Continued On Page Six)

PARIS ADMITS GAIN BY TEUTONS SOUTH OF THE SOMME RIVER

London, July 18—Substantial progress by the British on a front of 1,000 yards north of Ovillers was announced today by the war office. The official statement follows: "Thick mist and incessant rain still are interfering with our operations in the neighborhood of the Somme, but to the north of Ovillers we made substantial progress last night on a front of one thousand yards. The enemy were driven out of several strongly defended points."

Paris, July 18—The Germans made an attack last night on the French line south of the Somme and gained ground in the vicinity of Biaches, the war office announced today.

The German attack was delivered against the French positions from Biaches to La Maisonette. Several attempts to take La Maisonette failed with heavy loss to the Germans, the statement says, but groups of the attacking forces spread along the canal on the east side of Biaches where the fighting continues.

A German raid on Hill 304 on the Verdun front west of the Meuse was broken up by French infantry fire. East of the river there was fighting with grenades in which the advantage rested with the French. The artillery was active about La Laufee and Chenois.

Berlin, July 18.—(Wireless to Sayville)—The operations on the Russian front in Volhynia which resulted in withdrawal of Tenthon lines southwest of Lutsk behind the lower Lips, together with military activities on other sectors of this front, are recorded in the Austro-Hungarian headquarters statement of July 17, received here from Vienna.

Berlin, July 18. (By Wireless to Sayville)—Heavy attacks last night by the British against Posieres on the Somme front and positions to the east were repulsed as were attacks by the French at Blanches, Lamasonette, Barleaux and Soyecourt, according to the official statement today.

MANY PERISH IN SOUTHERN FLOODS

Atlanta, Ga., July 18.—Flood waters throughout the stricken districts of North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia were receding today, latest reports making the death list total 19. The property loss continues to grow and when towns and counties now cut off from communication are heard from the first estimates of from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 damage probably will be increased. Railroads apparently have suffered far more than was at first realized. Reports from western North Carolina are that some lines there will have to be almost entirely rebuilt. Bridges were carried away at many points in all four states and serious washouts and landslides occurred along roads. Measures for the relief of passengers on trains marooned near Asheville were taken today, automobiles being employed to carry the passengers to the nearest cities where they can be properly fed and housed. Automobiles are being used to move the 250 passengers from the Florida special of the Southern Railway to Asheville. Cotton mills in North and South Carolina have been heavy sufferers from the flood and thousands of workers have been thrown out of employment. In many instances mills will have to be entirely rebuilt and it will be months before these are put into operation. Reports of damage along the Catawba river in North Carolina continues to come in and several cities along that stream, including Hickory and Lenoir, still are cut off from communication. Great damage has been done all along the water way and the same is true along the Yadkin. In Central South Carolina, the flood waters did not reach the crests predicted and today all fears of further damage had passed.

War Costs England $13,000,000 Daily London, Eng., July 18—According to a statement issued by the war office the war is costing Great Britain $13,000,000 daily.

HEAT CLAIMS SIX VICTIMS

Cincinnati, July 18.—Six victims of the heat were reported today. By noon the thermometer was approaching the 95 mark with no relief in sight according to the weather forecaster. George Hood, seeking a cool place on the roof of his home, fell off in his sleep and was severely injured. Indications were that it would be warmer tomorrow.

WANTS AERIAL COAST PATROL

Washington, July 18.—Representative Kahn introduced in the house today an aerial coast patrol bill similar to one offered in the senate a few days ago by Senator Johnson. The measure would appropriate $100,000 to establish aero coast patrols in the naval militia.

Mrs. Ada Jones, of 907 Front street, was called to the bedside of her father, Mr. Peter Matta, of Fulton, Ky., who is very sick with heart trouble.

Negro "Prophet" Kills 3; Wounds 4

Chicago, July 18.—A negro, religious fanatic, becoming insane today shot four persons to death, wounded three, and was himself killed with his wife, after 180 police had dynamited the house in which he was barricaded. Hundreds of shots were exchanged between the crazed slayer, H. J. McIntyre, and the police who besieged his flat, in a two-story brick structure at 320 North Irving Avenue. After three charges of dynamite had been exploded and an attempt made to fire the structure with gasoline, McIntyre and his wife who were armed with powerful rifles, were shot to death. The police were held at bay for more than an hour. The explosions blew the rear porch and part of the kitchen into the alley and when the police were able to enter the building it was a wreck. They found an explanation of McIntyre's deed in a note which he left scrawled in lead pencil on a soiled piece of wrapping paper. "The Almighty God has made me a prophet unto all nations and also my wife, Hattie McIntyre. "You shall know that the Lord has sent me to gather unto the Lord the remnant of the Adamic seed. "At this place in the scrawled note the negro wrote three capital C's and the initials "P. H." "The Lord has made me the savior of all Africans of America and now I shall recommend all that are worthy unto my heavenly father, the Great God of all creation. Lord has given me a spirit to judge the sick and the dead. I must die in this land that I may carry my reports unto Almighty God concerning the land of the United States." In the opinion of the police McIntyre wrote the letter just before becoming violent, although he had opportunity to do so between lulls, while the blue coats, having been repulsed, were under cover. McIntyre's wife is supposed to have assisted him at least to the extent of reloading his weapons, as a cartridge belt was found around her waist similar to the one worn by her husband. Her head was blown off by the explosion of dynamite. The dead are: Stuart Dean, 60, policeman; Mrs. Josephine Overmeyer, 28, neighbor; Edward Knox, 34, negro, neighbor; Alfred Matthews, 30, negro, neighbor; M. J. McIntyre, negro, the crazed man, 30; Mrs. Hattie McIntyre, negro, wife of the slayer, 30. The injured are: Edward Clement, detective-sergeant, three bullet wounds, serious. Grover Crabtree, policeman, wounds in wrist and elbow. Mrs. Sadie Knox, wife of Edward Knox, bullet wound in back. Serious.

APPEAL FOR CASEMENT IS DENIED

London, July 18.—Without hearing the attorneys for the Crown, the court of criminal appeals today dismissed Sir Roger Casement's appeal from the verdict of the lower court which found him guilty of treason for which Viscount Reading, the Lord Chief Justice, sentenced him to death. For a day and a half, Alexander Sullivan, Sir Roger's counsel, argued before the court, quoting many authorities in favor of his contention that the offense of treason depended upon whether the accused dwelt under the protection of the king and that the crime could not be committed without the realm. He abandoned his other points in regard to the Lord Chief Justice's definition of the offense. As soon as Mr. Sullivan had concluded his argument the court retired to consider whether the attorneys for the crown would be called on to reply. It soon decided to the contrary, which indicated the appeal had gone against Sir Roger who was present during the argument and when judgment was given. A further appeal to the house of lords is possible only if the attorney general gives a certificate that the decision of the court of criminal appeal involves a point of law so exceptionally important that it is desirable in the public interest that a still higher court should deal with it. This has been done only twice since the court of criminal appeal was established eight years ago.

Attorney Michael Francis Doyle, of Philadelphia, counsel for Sir Roger, expressed the opinion today that it was probable the attorney general would certify the case for appeal to the house of lords as the appeal court did not consider it necessary to hear argument for the government. Powerful influences are working for a reprieve, said the attorney and there were strong hopes of one being granted.

SULZER AND HANLEY WANT THE OFFICE

St. Paul, Minn., July 18.—Delegates to the National Prohibition Convention which will open its session at the Auditorium tomorrow, learned today that the triangular contest for the presidential nomination had narrowed over night to a race between J. Frank Hanley, former governor of Indiana, and former Governor William Sulzer, of New York. Eugene N. Moss, former Governor of Massachusetts, announced that he would not be a candidate. With the arrival of the New York, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New England delegates a combination of anti-Hanley candidates seemed possible. Henry Ford, of Detroit, failed to arrive early today, although he had been expected to attend the "get together" conference which will be held today. His absence and silence lends color to the National Chairman Hinshaw's belief that the Detroit manufacturer will not permit his name to be placed before the convention as a presidential candidate. at the northeastern extremity of the Adriatic Sea. The trip included a brief stop at Verdun and a meeting on the Somme front with Generals Joffre, Foch and Fayolle. In the course of the trip President Poincaré inspected the former German lines and sections of the ground scarred by traces of the recent battles and bombardments. Before leaving he heartily congratulated the troops and their commanders.

Columbus, July 18.—Receipts of the state department of automobile registration during the fiscal year ending June 30, aggregated $1,200,237, according to an announcement today of W. H. Walker, state registrar. It required less than $100,000 to operate his department, he says, so that more than $1,100,000 will be turned over to the state highway department for the construction of roads. Registration of gasoline machines yielded $1,099,567, electric $13,411 and motorcycles $41,155.

Little Oddities Unraveled From Life

Back in the early '80's, when electrical apparatus was a curiosity and but two or three cities in Ohio had electric light plants, the Ohio Stove Company, one of the pioneers in the movement, installed an electrolytic plating machine at the request of Frank V. Knauss, who is now president of the Board of Trade. Although the machine was operating with but fair success at the few plants in which it was installed, Mr. Knauss took charge of the plating department and in his usual thorough way, made it a complete success. Men from all parts of the country came to see the local plating department. Thus Mr. Knauss earned the reputation of being an expert electrician.

A few years later, at the behest of friends who favored lighting the city by electricity, Mr. Knauss became a candidate for councilman and was subsequently elected. At this time the late Michael Stanton, one of the best authorities on parliamentary law then in the city, was a leader in council. A committee on lights was formed and Mr. Knauss was appointed chairman.

Not long afterwards, a representative from a gas company which held the city franchise, called and requested that their contract for lighting the city, be renewed for a period of ten years, upon the "Philadelphia System" basis, which specified that the company would light the city during the dark hours for one year at $24 per burner. Their request was flatly refused and a controversy ensued.

Negotiations were opened and after a certain length of time the gas company issued an ultimatum, giving the committee on lights ten days to sign the contract, adding that should their demands be refused, they would cut the light off.

Consternation reigned in the ranks of council for it was only ten days until the city was to entertain the annual reunion of the Army of West Virginia on the old Fair Grounds and it was imperative that the city be lighted in honor of the distinguished visitors.

So a few days passed, with the committee on lights diligently seeking an outlet but refusing to yield to the ultimatum. It happened that Mr. Knauss and a friend went to Columbus on business and while there he learned that a "Thompson generator" with a forty-five light capacity had been shipped to a western city from New York. Mr. Knauss immediately conceived a way out of the difficulty and went to the agent of this machine, who maintained an office at Columbus and prevailed upon him to divert the shipment and send it to Portsmouth. "This is your chance to dispose of a plant to the city," said Mr. Knauss. "Send it down there and show them what it will do."

Consequently, the machine was found and re-shipped to Portsmouth and erected in the old E. P. Salt Woolen Mills, near Sixth street.

Hammers and saws merrily rang for two days while the citizens looked upon with awe as the heavy wires were strung along the improvised poles. A circuit was stretched to the fair grounds and on the evening when the time limit of the ultimatum expired, the plant was ready. Thus when the reunion convened, Portsmouth's first electric lights were switched on and the visitors were impressed with the progressiveness of the city.

One of the strange incidents of the temporary arrangement was the fact that it required just eighty pounds of steam to operate the generator and the boiler at the Salt plant would just stand "eighty pounds."

Later the machine was purchased by the city and installed at the old water works, Mill street. A Westinghouse engine was secured to operate it. And the city was lighted with electricity.

Then an arrangement was made with Levi D. York and the Municipal Electric Light plant passed out of existence.

New York, July 18.—The meeting called by the National Woman's Party to be held in Colorado Springs August 10, 11 and 12, will be the most important suffrage conference ever held in this country, says Mrs. Alice Paul, chairman of the Women's Congressional Union, who came here today to make arrangements for the approaching campaign.

Camp Willis, Columbus, Ohio, July 18.—Colonel George K. Hunter, inspector general of the Central Department of the United States army, today continued his inspection of Camp Willis. He began looking over the camp yesterday and although the report he will make is to be confidential, it is understood he was far from being satisfied with the sanitary arrangements and the food supply.

As a result of his observations it is expected that changes will be made in the latrines and shower baths. Reports that Camp Willis might be made a permanent camp are said to have been discredited by Colonel Hunter. He declared that the camp site is too near a large city.

Colonel Hunter expects to complete his inspection of the camp today. He will then make his report to General Barry, of Chicago. Physical examination of the Second Regiment is expected to begin today.

Then you take him off an' let him cool. An' rolla! You have a more better apple sauce than you can make out of de prunes!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

OHIO RISING RAPIDLY; NO DANGER FELT HERE

(BULLETIN)

The Ohio river continued to rise rapidly throughout the day, the gauge at 3:15 showing a stage of 18.6 against 12.6 at 7 o'clock this morning. River men contend that not over three or four more feet may be expected and that the river will be on a stand some time Wednesday. It is almost bank full of drift.

"Unsettled weather conditions over upper Ohio Valley tonight and Wednesday. River at Portsmouth will continue rising today and will become nearly stationary Wednesday."

Local River Observer Fred Winter received the above message from Weather Forecaster Davenport, of Cincinnati, Tuesday morning.

The Ohio river at present is rising at the rate of about 9 inches per hour.

The stage at 10 o'clock was 14.8 and at 7 o'clock the gauge showed a stage of 12.6, a rise of about 27 inches in three hours.

According to information given out at the wharfbank the Ohio here will reach about 20 feet before the crest of the rise is passed.

A stage of 22 or 23 feet is required to inundate the extreme lowlands and it is not believed that much of the bottom land corn, if any, will be reached by the present rise.

The Kanawha is falling at Charleston, but the Ohio is rising sharply from Ft. Pleasant down.

KANAWHA'S RAMPAGE DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

Charleston, W. Va., July 18.—The flood scare is over. The Kanawha began rising rapidly about five o'clock yesterday morning, and reached its highest stage at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, that point being 29.2 feet. Then the water began slowly to recede.

Comparatively speaking, there was but little damage done locally, the heaviest losses being those sustained by the Belmont Coal Company of Crown Hill. They had fifteen empty barges, and eight loaded ones tied to their tipples. These were torn away by the strength of the current, and came down the river. Fifteen thousand dollars is a very conservative estimate of their loss. Their coal tipple was also slightly damaged.

Yesterday morning, the large crowds of spectators that were watching the river from the bridge leading to the C. & O. depot were well paid for their trouble. In addition to the barges of the Belmont Coal Company, about 11 others, reported to have broken loose at Montgomery, came floating down the river.

One smashed into one of the stone piers and tore out the end of the barge. Four others, a short time later, struck the pier broadside—the four barges being fastened together. The Beller boat house, containing a large number of valuable canoes was struck by a barge and turned completely around. At first it was thought that the boat house would be carried down the river, but the cables, by which it was anchored to the bank, held fast and there was much rejoicing on part of the canoe owners among the witnesses.

The Beller boat house was also struck, but was not damaged to any appreciable extent. Three barges were forced up the Elk river by the current, and there caught and tied. The Valley Belle attempted to capture four fastened together, but their attempts to land them were futile.

A barge hit a house boat owned by Silversteins, and sank it. Joe Silverstein and Alvan McCorkle were on board another house boat when a big barge slanted by forcing them to jump into the river, about 60 feet from the shore. They did not see the barge coming until the cries of the spectators from the bridge caused them to jump. Several motor boats anchored at Bradford street were taken down the river.

The Elk was quiet yesterday, and no damage was done there except at the plant of the Sanitary Dairy company. They were forced to move their ice cream freezers and milk from the cellar, which was several feet below the surface of the river. The water was slowly coming in from the sewer at a late hour last night, and they expect some damage to the machinery. Several families on Elk, however, moved out, and others are prepared to move. Campers at Wilson's and Blain's Islands below the city were forced to beat a hasty retreat.

"Shonk" Finds It Very Easy To Break Into Canada, Almost Had To Fight To Get Out

J. Harvey Shonkwiler, Times cartoonist, who with his wife left for Hamilton, Ontario, several days ago, had a most enjoyable trip, judging from an enthusiastic letter he sent one of the members of The Times force, Monday.

"Shonk" was in Buffalo, N. Y., during the Shriners convention and states that the affair was the biggest thing he ever saw. To use "Shonk's" own words: "Those Shriners certainly had one swell time in Buffalo. The town was wide open to them and they most surely went the limit. And yet, a more orderly, good-natured and self-respecting crowd I never saw. The Evening Times gave the number of visitors as 260,000. That would make, allowing Buffalo's population claims to be true, something like a million people in the old town. I am willing to admit after several hours in the jam on Main street, that a million is a very conservative estimate."

"And that Shriners' parade! Tell those Masons in Portsmouth that they missed a lot by staying away from Buffalo. I met old Masons who have been doing these conventions for years, and they say they never saw anything like the Buffalo meet. There were hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of uniforms in line, and while there were not over a half dozen floats, they were of surpassing beauty. We stood at one point during the whole parade and it took two and one half hours to pass. So you know there was 'some bunch.' Brooklyn had a large delegation, and so did Boston and Atlanta. Canada was represented by a monster delegation from Toronto and Winnipeg. I looked for Lou Bragdon, William Zottmann, George Zottman and George Gableman and others from Portsmouth, but they told me at the Syrian Temple headquarters that none of the Portsmouth contingent came along. I did not see a soul I knew, except Will Winter and a few Canadian friends who made up our party. They were all Masons and they surely did show me a good time. There were no strangers in Buffalo—all were friends who required no introduction."

"Of course, we saw Buffalo from start to finish and sailed over to Crystal Beach. Saw where McKinley died, where 'Teddy' was sworn in and where Mark Twain went to house-keeping. We went around the 'Rubber-Neck' route and our Barker was a nice chap, with a well-developed sense of humor. For instance, he told us at the end of a long discourse upon the wonders of the town that Buffalo was a City of Churches. 'We have two hundred and sixty-eight churches—and five saloons to each church.'"

"We did not have the slightest trouble in getting into Canada. We spent Saturday at the 'Falls' and crossed the border Saturday evening. The Canadian officers came through and inspected our baggage and asked us simply if we were American citizens, where we were going, and how long we expected to stay. The officers did not even require our names. The simple answer to the above questions being sufficient to pass us through."

"It is quite a joke upon myself, but the fact is, I had more trouble in getting out of Canada to come back to Buffalo, than I had getting in. When our train reached Niagara Falls, Ontario, on the way to Buffalo, the Canadian immigration officials came through. One of them asked me if I was a Canadian. I told him no. He seemed to doubt my word and sized me up as a probable eligible recruit to the Canadian army. He seemed to feel that I might be leaving the country to escape service and questioned me rather closely until he assured himself that I was really an American. My friends had quite a laugh over my predicament—and it was a trifle more expressive than a war laugh."

"This is a great country up here—summer resorts, beaches, anything you want anywhere and everywhere. It is in the heart of the fruit belt and the orchards remind one of the Scioto Valley corn-fields—miles and miles of them stretching as far as the eye can reach. I have not seen much of it yet—just getting started, as it were, but it is fine and the Canadian people—or those we have met, are O. K."

"Everything up here is 'rear.' Soldiers and recruiting stations and recruiting meetings everywhere. We went to hear Emmaline Pankhurst the other night—she is here recruiting for the army and is a most interesting speaker. I made a sketch of her."

"Speaking of sketches, I expect to have a bunch of interesting ones by the time we get back. Yours from where the cool lake breezes blow. "SHONK"

Agree On Damages

Following the action taken by the Board of Control recently in which Ralph Calvert, director of public service was authorized to appoint an arbitration commission to affix the damages alleged due on gardens along the route of the new flood wall extension, Ludwick Ulrick, John Davis and William Hammond were appointed and went over the route Tuesday morning and adjusted the claims. These will be presented to city council Wednesday night for approval.

Director Calvert stated that all of the damages along the route had been agreed upon and would be submitted to council Wednesday. But one tract of ground will be recommended for purchase. It is the property belonging to Mrs. Kate Martin, Mill street, the price for which has been agreed upon.

Miss Elizabeth Butcher has returned to her home in Cleveland. Her sister, Miss Emma Butcher, who was recently operated upon, is much improved.

A UNIQUE BARN

A 12-sided concrete barn and round concrete silo are pictured and described in detail in the July Farm and Home. They were built by Menno S. Yoder, a progressive farmer of Lagrange county, Ind. The barn cost $1780 for material purchased and for hired labor. The labor of Mr. Yoder and his sons and the home-cut timber used were worth $1500, so $3280 was the real cost of the barn.

Yoder's barn is 12-sided. It is 60 feet in diameter and each side is 16 feet long, making the barn 191 feet in outside circumference. The walls are solid concrete 30 feet high. They are reinforced with 11 rods of No. 9 wire. At the sides of doors and windows and above them the walls are further reinforced with old iron.

The doors at each end are 8x8 feet. Each door is in two sections and anything from a three-horse manure spreader to an automobile can pass through. There is a hydrant on the ground floor for watering cattle and waste water is tiled out. Nearly all wood-work about stalls and mangers is low down so it will not obstruct the light. There are two long feeding alleys, one on each side of the double central stable, and outside of the feeding alleys the irregular-shaped space is used for box stalls and a calf pen. A litter carrier operates on 60 feet of track in the barn and a curve outside of the door, and 7 feet of track in the barnyard.

There are 31 windows in the barn with 12x20-inch glass, four lights to each sash. The lower windows, 1 in number, have double-thick glass. All windows are protected inside and outside by heavy wire screens. The screen frames are held in place by wood screws, tightened up against the concrete.

The barn is 53 feet high from the ground floor to the opening in the roof, over which the ventilator cupola is built. Iron rings of old binder wheels were put in for the ventilator outlet and the upper end of the long rafters are bolted to these rings. A round hay rack 30 feet in diameter, built according to Mr. Yoder's own plans, has been placed under the roof and is fitted up with a new hay-carrying outfit that hoists the hay to any height and runs to either side without any track stop and without any change of ropes.

Our young niece, with true artistic display of temperament, cheerfully says that she does not see so much in that story of Johnny Chuck written by Lisa Katherine Waller that we should print it in the paper and in the editorial column too. Our niece says further that if she had known that we wanted something to fill up the paper she'd have taken her pen in hand and furnished us something worth while. And she has served notice that hereafter when there is any outside writing to be done for the editorial column, she is to be notified, and there is to be no more of this sending way off to Rhode Island for stuff.

John Jay Lentz is nobly responding to the call of the party wreckers and is seeking to do his share towards making victory for the Democrats in November a little bit harder. Lentz has no idea that he will get even a respectable vote as against Senator Pomeroy at the primaries. He has simply lent his name to the side show managed by alleged Democrats who are interested in the re-election of Governor Willis, and he does not hesitate also to attack President Wilson in carrying out his campaign. He is resorting to the same tactics that he used two years ago against Attorney General Hogan. We are sure that Scioto county Democrats will not be deceived by the activities of Lentz. They have taken his measure and they will show it by their votes at the primary on August 8th.

Not having smoked a single smoke for a whole week, and that too after having usually gotten away with 15 or 20 of the weed per day, we are contemplating ourselves with a wondering and virtuous admiration as one of the seven paragons of the world. We are so delighted with the success of the effort that we may decide to make the reform permanent. But we hardly think so.

Before us lies a copy of the "Nehawka News", published at Nehawka, Nebraska, and believe us it is some original and spicy sheet. For instance the editor makes apology to his readers in this style: "Last week's News was exceptionally short on news matter but crowded with advertising. Ye editor was out to his old home town in Clarks visiting and celebrating and did not return soon enough to get a great deal of news. Forget it."

Cartoonist Shoukwiler sends in post cards from up in Canada declaring that he is having the time of his young and giddy life. And the boys down here are wondering how Shoukwiler manages to keep still and hide his views and opinions under a barrel when the war is brought up as fitting subject for discussion.

The new Columbus Daily Monitor is plugging along, being just a week old now. So far there is nothing about it to distinguish it from a thousand and one other papers that have sought the public favor and there is nothing especially distinctive or attractive about it. The only thing that made an impression upon us about the paper was a little declaration at the head of the editorial column: "This paper does not accept beer, whiskey or patent medicine advertising."

We knew Colonel Roosevelt would be able to think of something to say if we only gave him a little time and now we see that he has written a friend in Michigan that it was not he who deserted the Progressive party but the Progressive party that deserted him. —Ohio State Journal.

THRIFT

Without me no man has ever achieved success, nor has any nation ever become great.

I have been the bed rock of every successful career, and the cornerstone of every fortune.

All the world knows me and most of the world heeds my warning.

The poor may have me as well as the rich.

My power is limitless, my application boundless.

He who possesses me has contentment in the present and surely for the future.

I am of greater value than pearls, rubies and diamonds.

Once you have me, no man can take me away.

I lift my possessor to higher planes of living, increase his earning power, and bring to realization the hopes of his life.

I make a man well dressed, well housed and well fed.

I insure absolutely against the rainy day.

I drive want and doubt and care away.

I guarantee those who possess me prosperity and success.

I have exalted those of low degree and those of high degree have found me a helpful friend.

To obtain me you need put out no capital but personal effort, and on all you invest in me I guarantee dividends that last through life and after.

I am as free as air.

I am yours if you will take me.

Everyday Wisdom

BY DON HEROLD

OH DOROTHY, DEAR DON'T

SODA FOUNTAINS

It is an age of machinery. We would rather be the man who invented the soda fountain than the man who invented the Krupp gun.

They have such a very different effect upon children. The inventor of the soda fountain must get a good deal of satisfaction when he closes his eyes and thinks of three million little children sitting around his soda fountain trying to gargle some more soda out of their glasses.

When it is all gone and there is no more to gargle, because too much soda is not good for little children—just enough, not too much. It must be a lot more fun for him to close his eyes and look than it is for the Krupp man to close his eyes and look.

A soda fountain is wonderful. It is so inextinguishable. It is so versatile. It is more marvelous than a pile of bricks. It tries to please everybody. It will do almost anything you say. It thinks. At night, after you have gone home all full of sodas, it tries to think up something clever, and early the next morning when you go to the drug store, there will be new cards hanging around, with new ideas the soda fountain has thought up overnight. If it can't think up something new, it will put new names on something old. A soda fountain is unlike a cow. A cow gives nothing but milk. A soda fountain gives every unpalatable drink in the world, and here lately they have been giving sandwiches. A soda fountain is literary; you can stand half a day in front of one and do nothing but read.

You can't stand in front of a Krupp all day and do nothing but read. A Krupp doesn't aim to please.

Bed Time Tales

Terry Turtle Spies A Kingfisher

TERRY TURTLE floundered out of the water and pulled himself up onto the bank of the creek. He had had a very exciting day and was quite tired enough to stop and rest in the sun for a while. First, he had had a narrow escape from old Mr. Guter when he had thrashed out of the woods after his failure to find and eat the fat pig he had spied. Next he had lost three little fish, one after another, that he had hoped to catch, and had had to content himself with a dinner of the leaves of water plants, especially water lettuce, but he hated to be disappointed, when he started fishing.

Yes, it had been a most disagreeable day. He got himself out of the water and up onto the bank and then he blinked his eyes lazily and prepared for a nap.

Maybe you think that was pretty careless of him to climb up there on the bank where everybody could see him and there take his nap. But it wasn't nearly as careless as you might think. In the first place, Terry's back was just the color of the mud on which he lay, so it was only when the sun shone sparklingly on his back that anyone could notice him. Then, too, Terry always slept with one eye open, as you would have found for yourself had you tried to catch him! He could get down from the bank and into the water quicker than you could reach out your hand and snap him—a great deal quicker! Dear me, yes!

He blinked his eyes sleepily, looked up and down the river to be sure that no danger was in sight—and spied Mr. Kingfisher!

Now Mr. Kingfisher was a handsome little fellow, and he was perched on the dead branch on which he was perched and eyed the water eagerly. Yes, he made a pretty enough picture to look at—no doubt about that!

But Terry Turtle was not interested in looks—not he! He was interested in fish. And he knew that where Mr. Kingfisher perched, there he had spied fish and plenty of them.

Immediately Terry forgot all about his troubles and disappointments; he even forgot the nap he was just ready to take. And he let himself down silently into the water and swam just under the spot where Mr. Kingfisher perched. If there were fish to be eaten, he meant to have his share—and he got it.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, July 15.—Into a Broadway car there came a bedazzling specimen of masculine fashionableness. From his crisp straw hat to his perfectly polished boots, he typified the latest edition of "What Well Groomed Men Are Wearing."

He carried a walking stick and was expensive and beautiful to behold. In fact he was a cherubic Lovely Looking Man. Having run out of adjectives—here goes for the punch in the yarn.

A big beetle-browed man, puffing from the exertion of chasing the car, sat down beside the sartorial wonder. He moved over just a trifle.

"What's the matter, sport, 'fraid I'll soil you?" said the newcomer.

"No. Not at all," said the Lovely Man quietly.

Silence between them for several blocks. But the rough-neck was doing something out of his usual line—thinking.

Finally, he turned about toward his neighbor. "You dudes make me sick. I suppose you've got a powder puff hid on you somewhere."

Then it happened. The well-dressed man laid down his newspaper, grasped the annoyance by the scruff of the neck, landed two blows between the eyes, dragged him to the door of the car, rang the bell for a quick stop and kicked him off—just like that.

Then he returned to his newspaper. We followed him to an office in Longacre Square. He entered a door on which was lettered in gold: "Physical Culture Expert."

Bide Dudley was on a subway train the other evening. Across from him a tired young man slept soundly. Finally a guard shook him and asked: "What street do you want?"

The young man smiled doubtfully and replied: "What streets have you?"

The Paralysis Plague has shown up the New York Board of Health in a most unpleasant light. The spasmodic "clean up" movement now sweeping the city is a confession of neglect and incompetence on the part of the health authorities.

While they have been advertising themselves by means of sundry fads, they have neglected the elementary precautions of sanitation. They have allowed conditions of filth to develop into an epidemic.

All the time they were earnestly muzzling toy dogs, regulating the running of street cars and ticketing restaurants with grotesque misdirection of zeal.

The poor ignorant immigrants on the East Side are being blamed and shouldered the hardships. They are being arrested right and left for not cleaning their homes and yards. Many of them brought to court do not know what it is all about.

Antoinette Vansack is the only woman engineer in New York—that is, the kind that stokes fires, watches steam gauges, repairs boilers and bosses in an engine room. She is 26, of Bohemian parentage and unmarried. She is determined to stay so for ten years, too. She has charge of a force of 16 men in a large office building. She is against votes for women.

Warslar Sijink, the Russian dancer has found America a land of opportunity, indeed. Next year he is to head the Russian Ballet on tour and also manage it. He is a young man of about 27. And he has been in America a little more than six months. He now owns a villa at Newport. He was brought to America at the suggestion of Louis H. Chailif, a former favorite dancer of the Czars. At first he showed a bit of temperament and it looked for awhile like he would never appear before an American audience, but he relented and it is needless to say he is mighty glad of it.

"With a determined frown his mother rose and hastened kitchenward. But just before she reached the door the boy laughed and said: 'No, it ain't a strange man, ma. It's only father.'"

The clerk returned with the majority leader from Indiana. They conferred for several minutes after which Senator Martin of Virginia and Vice President Marshall entered the president's room.

The conference concerned the legislative program and the time of adjournment of congress which the democrats have tentatively fixed at August 19. The president, it is understood urged that the child labor and workmen's compensation measures be included in the imperative legislative program. He sought to bring about an arrangement that would not delay adjournment, as he wishes to begin the campaign not later than September 1.

BRITISH THRUST

Berlin, July 18. (Wireless to Sayville).—The complete repulse of Russian attacks in the region west and southwest of Lutsk was announced today by the war office.

South and southeast of Riga the Russians continued their strong offensive but their assaults broke down before the German lines, and were repulsed by counter attacks where the German trenches had been penetrated.

BRITISH MAKE NEW THRUST

London, July 18.—Following up their successes near Bazentin-le-Petit and Longueval where they have driven close to the third line of German defense on the Albert plateau the British now have carried out a new thrust for ward, north of Ovillers, making substantial progress along a front of more than a half mile.

The British drive was launched near the left flank of the line active in the present offensive, southeast of Thiepval, and if followed up seems likely to threaten seriously the strongly held German position at Poseles, to the east.

The expected counter attacks of the Germans in efforts to recapture ground recently won by the allies in the Somme offensive have materialized along the front occupied by the French south of the Somme. In an attack last night on the lines between Maissonette and Bieches the Germans succeeded in regaining territory along the canal east of Miaches. Their assault on Maissonette itself, a costly operation was a failure, says this afternoon's Paris bulletin. In the Verdun region there has been further activity. The French broke up a German raid on Hill 304 west of the Meuse while Grenade fighting on the eastern bank of the river resulted in advantage to the French, according to the Paris report.

RUSSIANS VICTORIOUS

(BULLETIN)

Petrograd, July 18.—(Via London)---A Russian victory over Teutonic forces in southern Volhynia has resulted in their being driven across the river Lipa, says a war office statement issued today. Indications are, the statement adds, that the retreat was effected in the greatest disorder.

DAUGHERTY IS TO BE HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, Columbus, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, will be in Portsmouth, Saturday, July 22, to meet the Scioto county voters, according to an announcement made Tuesday by D. Willard Gustin, secretary of the Daugherty Campaign Club of Scioto County. A message was received Tuesday noon from W. E. Halley, Columbus campaign manager for Mr. Daugherty, stating that Mr. Daugherty would come to Portsmouth, Saturday, from Marietta, O. Although Mr. Daugherty's visit is much sooner than expected, the officers of the local club have tentatively outlined their plans to entertain the distinguished visitor.

A reception committee is to be named Tuesday evening to meet Mr. Daugherty and party who will come to this city from Marietta in an automobile, arriving sometime Saturday noon. The visitors will be escorted to the Washington Hotel and then after luncheon a public reception will be held. Every voter, regardless of politics, is invited to meet Mr. Daugherty and become acquainted with him and his policies.

It is planned to have the hotel decorated in honor of the visitor.

Then after dinner the River City and the Lewis Brass Band (colored) will assemble at the corner of Second and Market streets and escort the visitor and his party to the Gallia street esplanade, where an address will be made. This speech will be made at seven-thirty o'clock from a platform which is to be erected near the Security bank. Should it rain, the evening meeting will be held in the club rooms of the Scioto County Republican Club, which are located over the Royal Savings and Loan company, Gallia street.

Invitations will be mailed to every Republican in the county to attend the reception and meeting. Considerable enthusiasm is being evinced over the visit of the well-known candidate for senatorial honors and a large reception and gathering is predicted.

The important political issues of the day are to be discussed by Mr. Daugherty, and the address promises to be of much interest.

It is planned to have a squadron of automobiles meet Mr. Daugherty and party at the outskirts of the city Saturday and escort them to the hotel.

During the past week the candidate for senatorial honors and his party have been touring the eastern counties of the state, making speeches and holding receptions at several of the towns and cities. At all of these meetings large crowds have greeted the visitors and it is the intention of the local committee to see that Portsmouth extends her usual hospitality to the visitor.

D. Willard Gustin, secretary of the Daugherty Campaign Club, of Scioto county announced the standing committee of the organization Tuesday. Capt. A. J. Finney is chairman of the committee of one hundred and twelve. The members of the committee represent every section of the county, and are as follows:

Washington, July 18.—The house took up today a conference report on the $322,000,000 post office appropriation bill which gives final word to the Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of substituting the space for the weight basis as a method of paying for railway mail transportation. Pending a ruling by the commission the pace plan will be tried out on some lines to demonstrate its possibilities and amount of pay.

Representative Moon, chairman of the post office committee, said today that experiments could be started under the bill as soon as an order by the postmaster general had been approved by the commission.

CASTRO TURNED DOWN

Washington, July 18.—Immigration bureau officials have abandoned their idea of giving a "transit privilege" that would permit General Cipriano Castro and his wife to be at liberty in New York until they could take a boat for Porto Rico. It was explained at the bureau today that exclusion of the former Venezuelan president from the United States would operate to bar him from Porto Rico or other insular possessions.

ROTARY CLUBS MEETING IN CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, July 18.—After a short business session today in which the report of the committee of constitution was received, the convention of International Rotary Clubs, in session here, entered into a general discussion on "honorary members in rotary" and "rotary in the smaller cities." The fight for the next convention has grown lively between Kansas City, Atlanta and Salt Lake City, while Chattanooga is asking for the 1918 meeting. The selection of the next convention city will be made Friday.

An invitation to visit Dayton, Ohio, Friday, was extended to the convention by John H. Patterson and the Dayton Rotary club. While the convention did not accept the invitation as a whole, many clubs did and several special trains will take them to Dayton where they will first be entertained by the Dayton Rotary club and then by Mr. Patterson with a luncheon at the plant of the National Cash Register company, of which Mr. Patterson is president.

The first rounds of the Rotary tennis tournament were held yesterday afternoon, Salt Lake City defeating Akron, Ohio, 6-3; 6-4 and Kansas City defeating Cincinnati 6-4; 9-7. Salt Lake City and Kansas City will play this afternoon.

In the rotary golf tournament Victor R. Smith, of Atlanta, won the prize for the lowest individual score with 82. The four lowest scores qualified the following cities to participate in the semi-finals this afternoon, Springfield 172; Atlanta 177; Memphis 177; Cincinnati 183.

EPIDEMIC IS NOT FEARED BY ADULTS

New York, July 18.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis here and the wide publicity it has received apparently has not kept adults from visiting New York City. This assertion was made today by a number of hotel proprietors. They said the number of summer visitors this year has been breaking all previous records. This declaration by the hotel men was called forth by Mayor Mitchell's statement saying persons who had postponed trips to New York and that their fears were groundless. The mayor said "It has drawn to my attention that there exists among people living outside of this city a widespread fear that a visit to New York exposes the visitors to the danger of contracting or carrying away infantile paralysis. This, I am informed, is leading many people who normally have business to transact in this city to remain away."

Dorothy Shope, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. W. T. Carter, of Poplar street, in the East End, was operated on Monday afternoon for the removal of adenoids and tonsils by Drs. Cheney and Bryant.

Harry Hyland, a shoe cutter in the scaly plant, has been ill with symptoms of appendicitis for several days at his home on Eighth street.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My skin began to get rough and peeling. It went all over my face and hands and on my neck, and every time I would wash I took some skin off. My skin was very red and burning and I had to scratch and my face was disfigured. I lost rest at night, and I could not put my hands in water.

"One day I found a Cuticura Soap and ointment advertisement. I had bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and then a cake of Cuticura Soap, and after using them about a week my face began to get well, and I used about two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Ointment and I was healed." Claim Minister's Wife Announced She Would Fight Till A Certain Warm Spot Froze Over Rivals in business and an attempt on the part of one to force the other to reduce the price of milk seems to have been the motive for a neighborhood racket which was aired before Mayor H. H. Kaps Tuesday morning in police court.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Diamond, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gibbs and Mrs. Mary E. Runner, mother-in-law of Albert Gibbs were the prisoners arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct, to which pleadings of not guilty were entered.

Both the Gibbs and Diamonds operate stores near each other on Front street.

For several weeks, according to the contentions of the Gibbs clan, Mrs. Charles Diamond has been stopping her customers and attempting to induce them to trade at her place. This has incited a spirit of rivalry, they say.

Monday evening, about six o'clock a little Kinney girl went to the Gibbs store and purchased some milk. As she was on her way back home, Mrs. Diamond, according to the admissions of both parties, stopped the girl and asked her where she got the milk.

From this part of the controversy, the testimony varied. Mrs. Gibbs claimed that Mrs. Diamond called her something and an argument ensued in which Rev. Diamond came out of the house and threatened her with a "large red club." Then Albert Gibbs came out and threatened to take a hand in the affair and then the police were called.

Rev. Diamond said that Mrs. Gibbs had threatened to smash his wife's head and he came out of the house with a small window stick in his hand to see that nothing was done.

Several witnesses testified that Mrs. Diamond shrilly shouted that "she would fight until her blood froze over," and a few other like remarks. There was also considerable swearing at the time, several claimed.

Mrs. Mary E. Runner acknowledged that there had been considerable feeling between the two families for several months. She denounced the church which Rev. Diamond conducts on Front street as being an unfit place for people.

A witness, Mrs. Adams, claimed that Rev. Diamond had told her that he intended to see that the Gibbs sold milk at five cents a gallon before he was through.

Mayor Kaps held there was not sufficient evidence to show there had been serious trouble and dismissed the affidavits, giving the prisoners a positive injunction that the first one to be arrested for disorderly conduct in that neighborhood was sure to suffer the full penalty of the law.

Another neighborhood quarrel was probed and later dismissed from the police records. Mr. and Mrs. Preston Fletcher had been arrested at the instigation of neighbors for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Both denied the charge. Mayor Kaps dismissed the case and sent the husband to the county infirmary to recuperate from sickness.

Drunkenness and disorderly conduct were the charges against a woman known on police records as Mrs. Jennie Bush. From the testimony adduced, Mrs. Bush, while under the influence of liquor attempted to break a screen door down and then began swearing in a very loud tone. She was fined $10 and costs, five of which was suspended pending good behavior.

Fix Date For Outing, Kiddies To Get Real Treat In Millbrook

Friday, July 28 is the date set for the annual outing of the Salvation Army, for the poor children and their mothers.

Street wars necessary for carrying people to the park have been donated by L. D. York. All amusements at the park will be free.

There will be free rides on the merry-go-round and an entertainment at the Casino given by Harry Porter.

Captain E. Robinson is calling on the business men for small donations for the free dinner and supper boxes to be given those attending. The free tickets are now ready for distribution and can be had by calling at 1028 Chillicothe street.

Arrangements are being made to take care of 125 children and their mothers. There will be races with suitable prizes for the winners. Other contests in which all can take part will provide amusement for the day. The boys will have ball games. The free box lunches will contain meat sandwiches, cake, pickles, pie and bananas. Besides this the children will be given watermelon and ice cream.

All who wish to help make the outing a success and who want to make a donation should leave it at 1028 Chillicothe street or phone 1039-L.

MISFORTUNE COMES IN BUNCHES

Captain Henry Seidell, of Pittsburgh, well-known at Buena Vista and vicinity, is having his share of trouble. It will be recalled that H. Newman of Buena Vista fell from Captain Seidell's boat at Pittsburgh in February and was drowned, his body never being recovered.

Again in May Captain Seidell was confronted with misfortune when Davy Devoss, also of Buena Vista, who was employed on his boat, was struck and killed by a street car.

Saturday, Captain Seidell's wife passed to the Great Beyond. Her remains were laid to rest at Buena Vista Tuesday.

Restaurant Has Moved

William Knight has moved his "Ever Eat" restaurant from the Boyer property on Chillicothe street to the Gilgen and Belmont room on Chillicothe street, near Seventh.

The work of tearing down the Boyer property was started Tuesday. A Chillicothe street firm will take a lease on a two-story brick building that Mr. Boyer will build on it, and the firm's front will have two entrances instead of one, when the improvements are completed.

Edward Treat, who runs a saloon in another piece of Mr. Boyer's Chillicothe street property, is figuring on moving his saloon to the East End.

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women we believe can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste and do it quickly and to make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive.

Fisher and Streich and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.

NO WONDER SHE IS "LAID UP"

That trouble never comes singly proves true in the case of Mrs. Laura Cooper of South Portsmouth, who is laid up at her home. Recently she had the misfortune to cut a four inch gash in her left foot while wading in the Ohio river with a party of friends. She has been getting about on crutches. While returning home from visiting her sick daughter, Mrs. Bruce Harrison, Monday, one of her crutches slipped causing her to fall and sprain her right shoulder. It will be sometime before she will be able to get out.

WOMAN AND WAR
A Western woman doctor declares that women are physically fit for service at the battle-front. Probably some exceptional women may be, but are not the majority prone to ailments which make even household cares a burden! Hence the necessity for that great remedy which during forty years has done more than any other to relieve such ailments and mitigate the suffering of American Vegetable Compound.

Dear Dolly—How can I remove blue stains caused by perspiration, on a Georgette-crepe waist?
NAME.

These stains are difficult to remove. Saturate the spot with menthylated spirit and ammonia, rubbing briskly and having the goods laid upon a thick towel.

the child recovers, he is usually paralyzed for life. Though commonest among babies, adults are often victims; people 60 and 70 are known to have died of disease. However, a New York dispatch in Monday's Times says that out of 1,959 cases only 17 of them were over 16 years of age. The symptoms vary and are rather complicated. A child may play out all day, retire in the heat of health and be suddenly stricken with the dread disease before morning. On the other hand the child may be seized with severe pains in the back and legs, delirium, prostration, or acute inflammation. The temperature of the patient will run up to 101 or 102. This may go on four or five days before the little one is paralyzed.

Dear Dolly—I saw an advertisement of "Mercolized Wax" and it claims to take away the outer dead skin and cause the under skin to show. Does it harm the skin any? Is canteloup hard to digest?
Yours truly,
MARY.

I know nothing about the merits of the remedy you mentioned. Canteloup is very good served as the first course at breakfast.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps are prepared with caustic soda, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mul-tisified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soap or any thing else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dirt, dirt and dandruff.

Didn't you see Polly Ann at the movies? If not, you have another chance this Friday. It will be shown from one o'clock on, throughout the evening, together with the May Pageant picture, which many did not see when shown some time ago.

Believes Machines Are Being Stolen By Boys, Gives Warning

In discussing the series of automobile thefts that have taken place within the past six weeks, Judge Thomas O. Beatty, probate court, stated Tuesday that it was his belief that the work was that of young boys under eighteen years of age, who took the machines for a joy ride, abandoning them when their ride was at an end.

"I can say one thing," said Judge Thomas O. Beatty, "that if any one of these boys, if they are boys, are captured, and their case is referred to me, they can be assured that they will get a long term at the Lancaster Reformatory. If men are stealing the machines, they will not be found the next morning sitting along some curbing."

Bike Rider Run Down By A Ford, Painfully Hurt

Fred Hasselman, N. & W. caller and an employee of Smittle Temple billiard parlor, received severe bruises and lacerations when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a Ford automobile driven by an unidentified man. The accident occurred at Gallia and Young streets about six o'clock Monday evening.

Hasselmann, who is 21, was on his way to call a railroad man on Gallia street at the time of the accident. He was coming south on Young street and the automobile came on Young street from Gallia at a fair rate of speed. According to Hasselman, the automobile made a wide turn around the corner and crashed into him. Hasselman and bicycle were thrown to the paved street. The automobile, occupied by several grown people, did not stop to see if he was hurt, but sped on down Robinson avenue. Hasselman walked to his home at 2317 Grant street. Dr. Carl Brannlin was called and found Hasselman suffering with a laceration of the left elbow, contusion of the chest, and calf of right leg badly bruised.

As Usual Peacemaker Is Badly Hurt In Free For All Fight

Of local interest the Ironton Irontonian Tuesday morning said: "The Peacemaker in Pieces" might be the title of the little tragedy enacted on the corner of Eighth and Quincy streets at about nine o'clock last night. Fred Kennell, a brickworker, until recently employed with Kelly Bros., at Portsmouth, was the leading man and he was a badly mangled hero before the night was done. Clarke Cornutte and son Jim, Will and Srenan Scott, Grant Finley and other colored men are said to have been members of the supporting cast, but they didn't support. Fact of the matter is, they made Kennell look like an advertisement for a third rate hospital and he will be several weeks recovering from a severe cut just above the right eye, which he claims was inflicted by Will Scott, with a fence picket.

"Kennell claims that a gang of colored boys were 'riding' Clark Cornutte and he 'horned in' to tell them to cease and a free-for-all fight was begun. Kennell's allies either quitting the field or joined the opposition. Patrolmen Baldwin and McKee arrested Kennell and Cornutte and Jeff Scott arrested Jim Cornutte. The others of the bunch escaped but will be hauled into court today."

Beautiful Mac Murray in "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" at the Lyric Tonight

Mac Murray, the beautiful Lasky star who recently created such a success in the photodramatic version of the famous novel, "To Have and to Hold," will be drama you like to see. The "big idea" in this number seems to have been to crowd as many "thrills" into the picture as it would possibly stand. At any rate, that is the impression it gives the spectator, and Helen performs her different stunts with neatness and dispatch. "The Trail of Danger" justifies its title.

"The Touch on the Key" is an American two reel newspaper story featuring Vivian Rich. The girl saves her paper from a beat by her knowledge of telegraphy. The fight at the switch board is exciting. "Shy Thirty Cents" is a screaming Vogue comedy.

At The Arcana
"The Unconventional Girl" two part Imp drama in which number Edith Roberts appears as a tomboy girl, fond of outdoor sports. She comes in contact with a burglar, who has entered the house for purposes of revenge; he imagines the man who ruined his sister is a brother of Helen. But the man is a suitor to Helen's sister and later when confronted with the burglar's sister and baby, a marriage is consummated. The story is entertaining and unconventional as the girl herself. The big dramatic scene is where Helen confronts Sidney with the girl and baby before a roomful of guests.

"Harmony in a Flat" is a Rex comedy featuring Ben Wilson, Dorothy Phillips and Charles Ogil. It pictures the experience of two newlyweds in an apartment house. "Storming The Tranches" is a Powers war drama.

At The Strand
"Holds the Silent," is a two-part Bison drama featuring Lois Wilson and Harry Carter. A heart interest story of extraordinary interest. "A Raffle for a Husband," Joker, is an amusing number featuring Gale Henry, Wm. Franey, Milburne Morant and Lillian Peacock. The young man, who is broke, raffles himself off. The janitress gets the lucky ticket, but neither wishes to wed, so two elopements follow.

"Their Social Smash" is a Powers comedy, featuring Marcio Moore, Dan Russell and Bob Vernon. Ma and Pa live unhappily in a turmoil of domestic trouble, Ma being jealous of the very ground on which Pa treads.

At The Temple
"The Green Swamp" is a five-part Kay-Bee Triangle drama. A powerful deterioration in the character of young and loving wife when jealousy begins to destroy her happiness, jealousy of a most primitive kind, one without the slightest justification, yet shown as a natural outgrowth of intense affection at a critical moment. One of the most perfect plays of its kind ever shown.

"Love Will Conquer" is a two-part Triangle comedy. Nuf ced; this is Triangle day.

"The Price of Malice," With Barbara Tennant, at the Columbia Tonight.

Hamilton Revelle, the foremost romantic and dramatic star of the stage or screen, will be seen here at the Columbia theatre tonight in "The Price of Malice," a five part Metro production. Barbara Tennant, the charming and talented young actress, will be featured in this notable photoplay, which is replete with big scenes produced upon an elaborate scale. Several of these scenes include the wrecking and sinking of a large yacht, in the ice floes of Labrador. Most of the players are taken off in life boats, but the two principals, Mr. Revelle and Miss Tennant, are tossed around in the ice floes until they succeed in getting aboard a small life raft.

In "The Price of Malice" there is a strong supporting cast which includes William Davidson, who played the lead in "A Yellow Streak," "Her Debt of Honor" and other recent Metro wonder-

Dragging Around, Constipated, Bilious?

A Wineglassful of Tollo Water Will Flush Your Liver and Start You Feeling Good in Half an Hour

Those who have known the pleasure of an active, energetic life and who now drag around feeling tired, nervous and unfit, look at your tongue, see if it is not covered with a furry coat. Look at your skin, see if it is not sallow, possibly covered with pimples. Your food digresses you, bloats your stomach and sometimes feels as heavy as lead. It all comes from your liver. Too much rich food has choked the bile tubes, you become constipated and the bile which should be expelled regularly is being absorbed into the system.

Concentrated Tollo Water from Dawson Springs will give quick relief. Get a 15-cent bottle from the drug store. Pour about a third of a tumblerful in a glass of plain water and drink it before breakfast. In a few minutes it will flush—really wash out—the bile and waste from your system and start you feeling fine. Your complexion will start to clear up at once and by the time you have used a 15-cent bottle it will return to its natural color.

Keep a bottle in the house and take a wineglassful before breakfast every few days; it will keep your bowels regular as a clock and your liver acting freely. You can eat all you want without feeling stuffed or bloated. You will know again the pleasure of an active energetic life.

MAYOR HOLDS BUSY SESSION OF POLICE COURT MONDAY NIGHT

Notwithstanding the sweltering weather Monday evening a capacity audience curiously watched the proceedings of police court. E. A. Dorrough and Morris Patton were arraigned on charges of fighting and disorderly conduct and both entered pleas of not guilty. There was trouble they both admitted but as to what weapons were used in the melee, neither could agree.

Fred Stone, a lad who said he was from West Union, claimed that Dorrough went to Patton's house one evening last week and upon knocking was admitted and invited to supper. The caller, according to the lad, demanded to know certain questions and a fight ensued in which Patton was first knocked down, then struck with a knife, then with an alarm clock and finally with a sugar bowl.

Patton says that Dorrough came to the house and was invited in. On being ushered into the front room of the house, Patton contended that his visitor in a very ugly manner demanded: "What did you tell Charles Schirrmann that I was drunk all the time and couldn't tend to my business for?"

This started the trouble in which the visitor is said to have slapped Patton. Patton says he fell against a dresser and it upset throwing a clock within his reach which he seized and used it on his adversary.

The scene of the battle shifted to the kitchen when Mrs. Patton took a hand, the witness declared, and he was just in the act of hurling a pot of boiling coffee upon the visitor when his wife succeeded in pushing him out of the house.

Dorrough avers that he called and asked Patton the question referred to and was called a name and he struck Patton. He claims that Patton used a clock upon his head and then the fight changed from the front room to the kitchen where the owner of the house seized a razor. Then he says that he started to leave and before doing so invited Patton to come outside, razor and all.

Mayor Kaps stated at the conclusion of the trial that he would reserve his decision until further investigations were made.

A boarder, a man and his wife were the principals in the next case called for hearing. William Myers had been arrested at the instigation of Oscar Hughes, a boarder, charging assault. Myers, the accused, immediately filed an affidavit charging Hughes with co-habiting with his wife, Florence Myers, and then preferred a similar charge against Mrs. Myers. All three pleaded not guilty.

and each with their own witnesses gave their side.

Oscar Hughes claimed that he had been at Louis Distel's saloon one evening last week when Myers wandered in and asked him to go outside with him. Together they left and on reaching the railroad, Hughes says that Myers made a lunge at him with a knife. Then Hughes says he fled.

Myers claimed that he had questioned Hughes about his alleged relations with Mrs. Myers and Hughes started to run and he endeavored to seize him.

Mrs. Myers strenuously denied the charges and had several of her neighbors to testify that her character was good.

The case was dismissed by the mayor on account of the lack of evidence to prove a single charge of the three.

Ben Neighbors pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was released from custody without a fine. "Ben, I want to congratulate you," said Mayor Kaps, "this is the first time you have been here this year and for that I will dismiss the charge. Now be careful that you are not brought back."

Visiting and keeping a house for immoral purposes were the charges upon which three women and one man giving the following names were arraigned: Mrs. Ed Hicks, Margaret Jones and Clara Jenkins, both of Ironton, and Charles Johnson. Not guilty were the pleas entered by the quartet.

Mrs. Hicks, who lives at 1826 Eighth street, was charged with keeping a disorderly house and neighbors testified that they had seen men and women entering and leaving the house at all hours of the night.

In explanation, Mrs. Hicks said that Clara Jenkins was her niece from Ironton who was on a visit with her friend, Margaret Jones, and that the girls had entertained callers on a few occasions but not often. She admitted that there had been beer at her home several times but denied any wrong doings.

The two girls corroborated Mrs. Hicks and Charles Johnson, when arraigned, alleged that he had gone to the house to see the Jenkins girl when the police swooped down and gathered in the whole party.

The evidence produced, the mayor held, was not of sufficient weight to hold them on the charges so he dismissed the affidavits with the understanding that the girls were to leave the Hicks home.

TAKES NICE SLAP AT HERRICK LEAGUE

Relative to the contentions of the Herrick Voters' League of the several counties, officials of the Daugherty Campaign Club of Scioto County, made public the following statement issued by W. E. Hall, chairman of the Daugherty senatorial campaign:

"The so-called Herrick Voters' League Chicks are largely paper organizations. In some instances, gross misrepresentation has been resorted to, to convey the idea to the Republican voters of the state that there was a strong movement for the nomination of Mr. Herrick."

"I have a statement, signed by more than thirty Republicans of Darke county, alleging that their names were used on the stationery of a Herrick Voters' League, or Club, and were published as members of such league, or club, without their knowledge and without their consent."

"They have repudiated the action of the organizers of this league, or club, in a published statement. I have letters of a similar nature from Republicans in other counties. There is no idea, of course, that Mr. Herrick is a party to this sort of misrepresentation as to the position of prominent Republicans in the state. There is abundant evidence, however, that some of the men who are employed by the managers of his campaign, have resorted to this character of work to deceive the voters of the state and to leave Mr. Herrick under the impression they were bringing about the results for which they were engaged."

INCENDIARISM HINTED

Fire of what is believed to be of incendiary origin was discovered Monday evening at 5:28 in a stable at the rear of the Mrs. M. Broadwater home, 1650 Eleventh street. An alarm was sent in and the East End and the Hill Top companies responded. It was quickly extinguished with chemicals.

Chief George Koerner stated Tuesday that in his estimation some one hurled a lighted match or some other burning material into a rubbish pile which was in the barn.

Another Machine Stolen; Found On Summit Street

Close upon the news of the theft of a Ford touring car from the Independent Taxi company came the announcement Monday night that a new Overland touring car belonging to William H. Wanser, 1235 Third street, had been stolen from in front of the Columbia theatre.

It was a daring theft and one which has characterized the actions of the automobile thieves that have been operating in this city for the past three weeks. The car was found this morning on Summit street.

Within the shadows of the Columbia theatre, and in plain view of a large number of people, the Wanser machine was taken and driven away.

Mr. and Mrs. Wanser and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Frank drove up in front of the Smith's bakery Monday evening, about eight-thirty o'clock, and stopped. They climbed out of the machine and left it standing there while they went to the Columbia theatre. "Before we went in," said Mrs. Wanser, Tuesday, "we were undecided whether to leave our wraps, but finally decided to take them along."

About nine-thirty o'clock the theatre party came out and discovered their machine was gone. A hurried search of the near vicinity was made and then the police were notified. But no trace of the machine was found until this morning, when it was learned there was an abandoned car on Summit street. It proved to be the Wanser machine. The car was not damaged.

The first car to be taken was the Ed T. Welch car, which was stolen from his garage and driven about eighty miles before it was deserted.

This car was found.

Charles Windle's car was the next to be taken, but was later found. It was stolen while standing in front of the Trinity M. E. church.

Will Hor's machine was stolen from in front of the Bigelow M. E. church not long afterwards. It has not been located.

Charles Hor's automobile was taken from in front of the Ohio Valley bank and was later found.

Then John C. Bauer's car was stolen from in front of the Columbia theatre and was later recovered undamaged.

Sunday night a stranger hired a Ford touring car from the Independent Taxi company and was driven to Ironton. After the car was placed in a garage and the driver taken to a hotel, the stranger returned and took the machine.

Modern Science Finds A New Method

How Nerve Insulation Stops Inflammation and Eczema, Sunburn and All Skin Diseases Yield to Remarkable New Discovery

The nerves of your body are like electric wires. They carry the nerve energy (neuro-electricity) which is generated in the brain, to all the cells and tissues. The nerve sheaths are insulated to resist a current of about 1-1000 of a volt as has been proven with the aid of Lord Kelvin's galvanometer, an instrument so sensitive and accurate that for the first time it is now possible to measure the strength of nerve currents. It has been found that wherever acute inflammation occurs the insulation of the nerves is broken down, making it difficult, and often impossible, for nature to heal the surrounding cells. Germs cannot live in healthy tissue. It is only through damaged cells that they thrive and spread. Obviously therefore, the right way to successfully treat inflammation is to quickly repair the damaged insulation and enable nature to restore the diseased tissue to a healthy condition. Ion-o-lex Insulant does this.

Ion-o-lex Insulant is not a drug. It does not contain opiates or narcotics. Its action is entirely mechanical. Applied externally, it penetrates the inflamed and surrounds the injured nerve sheaths with an insulating bath. Then the inflammation subsides and nature quickly repairs the nerve lesion, you are well. Don't suffer another minute. Just go to Wurster Bros. and get a large jar of Ion-o-lex Insulant. It costs little, that it is the greatest means ever devised for conquering inflammation wherever it exists, your money will be cheerfully returned without a question.

An automobile party instead of turning onto Walnut street in front of the Y. M. C. A. at East Portsmouth continued on the old unpaved pike to Conley's switch about ten o'clock Monday evening and came to halt when they ran into the excavated part of the pike. A force of men will work all night, putting up the new trolley wire and cutting in the track in front of the Davis theatre. The new stretch of track is from Center street to West avenue, the north side of the pike being paved this distance. The old track on the south side of the pike will be torn up Wednesday morning and curbs and gutter work will be started by Kelley Bros. All guy wire poles for the new trolley wire have been in place for several days.

GERMANS WIN SOUTH OF SOMME

BRITISH SUCCESSES CONTINUE

THE FRENCH ADMIT KAISERMEN GAIN MORE GROUND

(BULLETIN)

Paris, July 18—The Germans made an attack last night on the French line south of the Somme and gained ground in the vicinity of Biaches, the war office announced today.

The German attack was delivered against the French positions from Biaches to La Maisonette. Several attempts to take La Maisonette failed with heavy loss to the Germans, the statement says, but groups of the attacking forces spread along the canal on the east side of Biaches where the fighting continues.

A German raid on Hill 304 on the Verdun front west of the Meuse was broken up by French infantry fire. East of the river there was fighting with grenades in which the advantage rested with the French. The artillery was active about La Laufee and Chenois.

EPIDEMIC IS NOT FEARED BY ADULTS

New York, July 18.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis here and the wide publicity it has received apparently has not kept adults from visiting New York City. This assertion was made today by a number of hotel proprietors. They said the number of summer visitors this year has been breaking all previous records. This declaration by the hotel men was called forth by Mayor Mitchell's statement saying persons who had postponed trips to New York and that their fears were groundless. The mayor said "It has drawn to my attention that there exists among people living outside of this city a widespread fear that a visit to New York exposes the visitors to the danger of contracting or carrying away infantile paralysis. This, I am informed, is leading many people who normally have business to transact in this city to remain away."

FIGHTING STILL

Charleston, W. Va., July 18.—Renewed efforts are being made by federal officers to put a stop to the illicit manufacture of whiskey in the mountains of West Virginia. A still together with 2,500 pounds of meal used in the manufacture of corn whiskey was confiscated yesterday near Crumpler. Eighteen stills have been destroyed by the federal authorities within the past eight months.

CONSIDER P. O. BILL

Washington, July 18.—The house took up today a conference report on the $222,000,000 postoffice appropriation bill which gives final word to the Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of substituting the space for the weight basis as a method of paying for railway mail transportation. Pending a ruling by the commission this pace plan will be tried out on some lines to demonstrate its possibilities and amount of pay.

Representative Moon, chairman of the post office committee, said today that experiments could be started under the bill as soon as an order by the postmaster general had been approved by the commission.

LABOR TO CONTINUE MAKING AMMUNITION

London, July 18.—Organized labor responded today to the government's appeal to postpone the August holidays so that the British offensive may be carried on with no shortage of ammunition. At a conference of representatives of trades unions it was decided unanimously to recommend that the government's suggestion be adopted.

NEGRO BARRICADED IN HOUSE HELD MANY POLICE AT BAY

Chicago, July 18.—An unidentified negro, after shooting and killing five persons, three of them negroes, according to reports to the police early today, barricaded himself in a house on the Southwest side and held the police at bay. The fight is still in progress.

The dead include a white woman who was aroused by the shooting and came to her back door in the rear of the building the negro had barricaded. Police reserves were called out from all sections of the west side, and more than a hundred men were stationed about the house. The name of the negro is said by the police to be McIntosh. The police reported that one policeman had been killed outright and that two other policemen had been fatally wounded. Whether these were included in the original five said to have been killed, had not been determined. The negro was still behind the windows of the house at 7 o'clock. The police said he had an automatic pistol and a rifle.

Gasoline was started burning at the front of the house in which the negro was barricaded, while policemen were prepared to hurl sticks of dynamite into the rear. The explosion of the dynamite blew the rear porch and part of the kitchen into the alley. The negro apparently was unharmed. Fifty rifles were ordered from the police stations.

The police entered the house at 8:26 and found the negro badly wounded and his wife dead, after three charges of dynamite had been fired against the building and scores of rifle bullets had been sent through the structure.

Belgian troops operating in German East Africa have reached the shore of Lake Victoria and in taking the German commandant prisoner and inflicting losses on the Germans, according to a statement issued by the Belgian war office today.

Floods Menace South Carolina

Atlanta, Ga., July 18.—As North Carolina floods slowly receded today, the situation in South Carolina grew serious. High waters were sweeping down from the mountain regions, many streams were out of their banks and the state was threatened by the most destructive floods in its history. The death list from high waters from five southeastern counties today stood at fifteen with thirteen or more missing. The property loss was put at $15,000,000. Rescue parties searched the swollen Catawba all night near Belmont, N. C., for ten construction men who went down with the Southern Railway bridge there Sunday. Ten others were taken from tree tops late yesterday, but the missing men are believed to have been drowned.

While the situation was greatly improved in the region around Asheville and Biltmore where six persons lost their lives, reports from other flooded districts showed damage far in excess of that reported. Three million dollars damage was done to property in Yadkin county, North Carolina, and a food shortage was reported. Railway communication was destroyed, many manufacturing plants were demolished, crops were ruined and the population was described as being in need of immediate help. Flooded power plants in the inundated area have caused great loss to textile and other industries. In Charlotte alone one million cotton spindles were made idle. No street cars are operating in that city and kerosene candles and a limited gas supply furnished the only light last night. Rivers in East Tennessee today were at their highest stages in fourteen years and rising. Great quantities of debris floated down from the mountain districts. Railroads throughout the district were heavy sufferers and the loss in bridges alone probably will reach more than a million dollars.

Greatly improved conditions are reported in Virginia, and West Virginia. Streams are falling and normal conditions are being restored. The New river valley suffered estimated property loss of approximately $2,000,000. The Norfolk and Western railway sustained about one-half the amount. Miles county is said to have suffered damage to the extent of $2,000,000. Petersburg was said to be entirely inundated. Railway officials believe it will be several weeks before normal train schedules are restored.

WOMEN'S MEETING TO BE IMPORTANT

New York, July 18.—The meeting called by the National Woman's Party to be held in Colorado Springs August 10, 11 and 12, will be the most important suffrage conference ever held in this country, says Mrs. Alice Paul, chairman of the Women's Congressional Union, who came here today to make arrangements for the approaching campaign.

"The action of this conference," Mrs. Paul added, "will depend upon what the Democratic party will do for the women or what Hughes will promise to do or what the Socialists or Progressive parties will do. We will certainly not stand for any one who is against us and the federal suffrage amendment."

Sanitary Conditions At Camp Willis Are Not All Satisfactory

Camp Willis, Columbus, Ohio, July 18.—Colonel George K. Hunter, inspector general of the Central Department of the United States army, today continued his inspection of Camp Willis. He began looking over the camp yesterday and although the report he will make is to be confidential, it is understood he was far from being satisfied with the sanitary arrangements and the food supply.

As a result of his observations it is expected that changes will be made in the latrines and shower baths. Reports that Camp Willis might be made a permanent camp are said to have been discredited by Colonel Hunter. He declared that the camp site is too near a large city.

Colonel Hunter expects to complete his inspection of the camp today. He will then make his report to General Barry, of Chicago.

HURRYING NAVAL BILL

Washington, July 18.—The senate renewed debate on the naval bill today with the hope that it might be passed before adjournment late in the afternoon. Discussion of the building program providing for sixteen capital warships within three years, eight of them next year, developed that it would be approved without radical change. Opposition of the building program as well as its defense came from Democrats as well as Republicans. A 45 to 11 vote tabled an amendment by Senator Norris to halt construction of the sixteen ships until after the end of the European war and after failure of efforts to create an international peace tribunal.

Punta Arenas, Chile—Sir Ernest Shackleton, the British Antarctic explorer, who, on returning from the south polar zone last April, left twenty-two of his companions on Elephant Island, sailed from this port on a small schooner to rescue them. KANAWHA'S RAMPAGE DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

Charleston, W. Va., July 18.—The flood scare is over. The Kanawha began rising rapidly about five o'clock yesterday morning, and reached its highest stage at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, that point being 29.2 feet. Then the water began slowly to recede.

Comparatively speaking, there was but little damage done locally, the heaviest losses being those sustained by the Belmont Coal Company of Crown Hill. They had fifteen empty barges, and eight loaded ones tied to their tipples. These were torn away by the strength of the current, and came down the river. Fifteen thousand dollars is a very conservative estimate of their loss. Their coal tipple was also slightly damaged.

Yesterday morning, the large crowds of spectators that were watching the river from the bridge leading to the C. & O. depot were well paid for their trouble. In addition to the barges of the Belmont Coal Company, about 11 others, reported to have broken loose at Montgomery, came floating down the river.

One smashed into one of the stone piers and tore out the end of the barge. Four others, a short time later, struck the pier broadside—the four barges being fastened together. The Beller boat house, containing a large number of valuable canoes was struck by a barge and turned completely around. At first it was thought that the boat house would be carried down the river, but the cables, by which it was anchored to the bank, held fast and there was much rejoicing on the part of the canoe owners among the witnesses.

The Beller boat house was also struck, but was not damaged to any appreciable extent. Three barges were forced up the Elk river by the current, and there caught and tied. The Valley Belle attempted to capture four fastened together, but their attempts to land them were futile.

A barge crashed into a house owned by Silversteins, and sank it. Joe Silverstein and Alvan McCorkle were on board another house boat when a big barge shunted by forcing them to jump into the river, about 60 feet from the shore. They did not see the barge coming until the cries of the spectators from the bridge caused them to jump. Several motor boats anchored at Broadford street were taken down the river.

The Elk was quiet yesterday, and no damage was done there except at the plant of the Sanitary Dairy company. They were forced to move their ice cream freezers and milk from the cellar, which was several feet below the surface of the river. The water was slowly coming in from the sewer at a late hour last night, and they expect some damage to the machinery. Several families on Elk, however, moved out, and others are prepared to move. Campers at Wilson's and Blain's Islands below the city were forced to beat a hasty retreat.

A UNIQUE BARN

A 12-sided concrete barn and round concrete silo are pictured and described in detail in the July Farm and Home. They were built by Menno S. Yoder, a progressive farmer of Lagrange county, Ind. The barn cost $1780 for material purchased and for hired labor. The labor of Mr. Yoder and his sons and the home-out timber used were worth $1500, so $3280 was the real cost of the barn.

Yoder's barn is 12-sided. It is 60 feet in diameter and each side is 16 feet long, making the barn 191 feet in outside circumference. The walls are solid concrete 30 feet high. They are reinforced with 11 rods of No. 9 wire. At the sides of doors and windows and above them the walls are further reinforced with old iron.

The doors at each end are 8x5 feet. Each door is in two sections and anything from a three-horse manure spreader to an automobile can pass through. There is a hydrant on the ground floor for watering cattle and waste water is tilted out. Nearly all wood-work about stalls and mangers is low down so it will not obstruct the light. There are two long feeding alleys, one on each side of the double central stable, and outside of the feeding alleys the irregular-shaped space is used for box stalls and a calf pen. A litter carrier operates on 60 feet of track in the barn and a curve outside of the door, and 7 feet of track in the barnyard.

There are 31 windows in the barn with 12x20-inch glass, four lights to each sash. The lower windows, 1 in number, have double-thick glass. All windows are protected inside and outside by heavy wire screens. The screen frames are held in place by wood screws, tightened up against the concrete.

The barn is 53 feet high from the ground floor to the opening in the roof, over which the ventilator cupola is built. Iron rings of old binder wheels were put in for the ventilator outlet and the upper end of the long rafters are bolted to these rings. A round hay rack 30 feet in diameter, built according to Mr. Yoder's own plans, has been placed under the roof and is fitted up with a new hay-carrying outfit that hoists the hay to any height and runs to either side without any track stop and without any change of ropes.

Our young niece, with true artistic display of temperament, cheerfully says that she does not see so much in that story of Johnny Chuck written by Lisa Katherine Waller that we should print it in the paper and in the editorial column too. Our niece says further that if she had known that we wanted something to fill up the paper she'd have taken her pen in hand and furnished us something worth while. And she has served notice that hereafter when there is any outside writing to be done for the editorial column, she is to be notified, and there's to be no more of this sending way off to Rhode Island for stuff.

John Jay Lentz is nobly responding to the call of the party wreckers and is seeking to do his share towards making victory for the Democrats in November a little bit harder. Lentz has no idea that he will get even a respectable vote as against Senator Pomeroy at the primaries. He has simply lent his name to the side show managed by alleged Democrats who are interested in the re-election of Governor Willis, and he does not hesitate also to attack President Wilson in carrying out his campaign. He is resorting to the same tactics that he used two years ago against Attorney General Hogan. We are sure that Scioto county Democrats will not be deceived by the activities of Lentz. They have taken his measure and they will show it by their votes at the primary on August 8th.

Not having smoked a single smoke for a whole week, and that too after having usually gotten away with 15 or 20 of the weed per day, we are contemplating ourselves with a wondering and virtuous admiration as one of the seven paragons of the world. We are so delighted with the success of the effort that we may decide to make the reform permanent. But we hardly think so.

Before us lies a copy of the "Nehawka News", published at Nehawka, Nebraska, and believe us it is some original and spicy sheet. For instance the editor makes apology to his readers in this style: "Last week's News was exceptionally short on news matter but crowded with advertising. Ye editor was out to his old home town in Clarks visiting and celebrating and did not return soon enough to get a great deal of news. Forget it."

Cartoonist Shonkwiler sends in post cards from up in Canada declaring that he is having the time of his young and giddy life. And the boys down here are wondering how Shonkwiler manages to keep still and hide his views and opinions under a barrel when the war is brought up as fitting subject for discussion.

The new Columbus Daily Monitor is plugging along, being just a week old now. So far there is nothing about it to distinguish it from a thousand and one other papers that have sought the public favor and there is nothing especially distinctive or attractive about it. The only thing that made an impression upon us about the paper was a little declaration at the head of the editorial column: "This paper does not accept beer, whiskey or patent medicine advertising."

We knew Colonel Roosevelt would be able to think of something to say if we only gave him a little time and now we see that he has written a friend in Michigan that it was not he who deserted the Progressive party but the Progressive party that deserted him. —Ohio State Journal.

THRIFT

Without me no man has ever achieved success, nor has any nation ever become great.

I have been the bed rock of every successful career, and the cornerstone of every fortune.

All the world knows me and most of the world heeds my warning.

My power is limitless, my application boundless.

He who possesses me has contentment in the present and surety for the future.

I am of greater value than pearls, rubies and diamonds.

Everyday Wisdom

By DON HEROLD

OH DOROTHY, DEAR DON'T

SODA FOUNTAINS

It is an age of machinery. We would rather be the man who invented the soda fountain than the man who invented the Krupp gun. They have such a very different effect upon children. The inventor of the soda fountain must get a good deal of satisfaction when he closes his eyes and thinks of three million little children sitting around his soda fountain trying to gurggle some more soda out of their glasses when it is all gone and there is no more to gurggle, because too much soda is not good for little children. —Just enough, not too much. It must be a lot more fun for him to clean his eyes and look than it is for the Krupp man to close his eyes and look.

A soda fountain is wonderful. It is so inexhaustible. It is so versatile. It is more marvelous than a pipe organ. It tries to please everybody. It will do almost anything you say. It thinks. At night, after you have gone home all full of soda, it tries to think up something clever, and early the next morning when you go to the drug store, there will be new cards hanging around, with new ideas the soda fountain has thought up overnight. If it can't think up something new, it will put new names on something old. A soda fountain is unlike a cow. A cow gives nothing but milk. A soda fountain gives every unexciting drink in the world, and here lately they have been giving sandwiches. A soda fountain is literary; you can stand half a day in front of one and do nothing but read.

You can't stand in front of a Krupp all day and do nothing but read. A Krupp doesn't aim to please.

Terry Turtle Spies A Kingfisher

TERRY TURTLE floundered out of the water and pulled himself up onto the bank of the creek. He had had a very exciting day and was quite tired enough to stop and rest in the sun for a while. First, he had had a narrow escape from old Mr. Gater when he had thrashed out of the woods after his failure to find and eat the fat pig he had spied. Next he had lost three little fish, one after another, that he had hoped to catch, and had had to content himself with a dinner of the leaves of water plants. Of course he liked water plants, especially water lettuce, but he hated to be disappointed, when he started fishing.

Yes, it had been a most disagreeable day.

He got himself out of the water and up onto the bank and then he blinked his eyes lazily and prepared for a nap.

Maybe you think that was pretty careless of him to climb up there on the bank where everybody could see him and there take his nap. But it wasn't nearly as careless as you might think. In the first place, Terry's back was just the color of the mud on which he lay, so it was only when the sun shone sparklingly on his back that anyone could notice him. Then, too, Terry always slept with one eye open, as you would have found for yourself had you tried to catch him! He could get down from the bank and into the water quicker than you could reach out your hand and stop him—a great deal quicker!

Dear me, yes!

He blinked his eyes sleepily, looked up and down the river to be sure that no danger was in sight—and spied Mr. Kingfisher!

Now Mr. Kingfisher was a handsome little fellow, had you seen him yourself you would not have wondered that Terry Turtle immediately opened his eyes wide and forgot about his nap. For Mr. Kingfisher is a little dandy among birds, there is no doubt about that! And this par-bill on the dead branch on which he was perched and eyed the water eagerly. Yes, he made a pretty enough picture to look at—no doubt about that!

But Terry Turtle was not interested in looks—not he! He was interested in fish. And he knew that where Mr. Kingfisher perched, there he had spied fish and plenty of them.

Immediately Terry forgot all about his troubles and disappointments; he even forgot the nap he was just ready to take. And he let himself down silently into the water and swam just under the spot where Mr. Kingfisher perched. If there were fish to be eaten, he meant to have his share—and he got it.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, July 18.—Into a Brand-new car there came a bedazzling specimen of masculine fashionable dress. From his crisp straw hat to his perfectly polished boots, he typified the latest edition of "What Well Groomed Men Are Wearing."

He carried a walking stick and was expensive and beautiful to behold. In fact he was a cherubic Lovely Looking Man. Having run out of adjectives—here goes for the punch in the yarn.

A big beetle-browed man, puffing from the exertion of chasing the car, sat down beside the sartorial wonder. He moved over just a trifle.

"What's the matter, sport, 'frail I'll soil you?" said the newcomer.

No, not at all," said the Lovely Man quietly.

Silence between them for several blocks. But the rough-neck was doing something out of his usual line—thinking.

Finally, he turned about toward his neighbor. "You dudes make me sick. I suppose you've got a powder puff hid on you somewhere."

Then it happened. The well-dressed man laid down his newspaper, grasped the annoy by the scruff of the neck, landed two blows between the eyes, dragged him to the door of the car, rang the bell for a quick stop and kicked him off—just like that.

Then he returned to his newspaper. We followed him to an office in Longacre Square. He entered a door on which was lettered in gold: "Physical Culture Expert."

Bide Dudley was on a subway train the other evening. Across from him a tired young man slept soundly. Finally a guard shook him and asked: "What street do you want?"

The young man smiled doubtfully and replied: "What streets have you?"

The Paralysis Plague has shown up the New York Board of Health in a most unpleasant light. The spasmodic "clean up" movement now sweeping the city is a confession of neglect and incompetence on the part of the health authorities.

While they have been advertising themselves by means of sundry facts, they have neglected the elementary precautions of sanitation. They have allowed conditions of filth to develop into an epidemic.

All the time they were earnestly muzzling toy dogs, regulating the running of street cars and ticketing restaurants with grotesque misdirection of zeal.

The poor ignorant immigrants on the East Side are being blamed and shouldered the hardships. They are being arrested right and left for not cleaning their homes and yards. Many of them brought to court do not know what it is all about.

Antoinette Vansack is the only woman engineer in New York—that is, the kind that stokes fires, watches steam gauges, repairs boilers and bosses in an engine room. She is 26, of Bohemian parentage and unmarried. She is determined to stay so for ten years, too. She has charge of a force of 16 men in a large office building. She is against votes for women.

Wasslav Sijinsky, the Russian dancer has found America a land of opportunity. Indeed, next year he is to head the Russian Ballet on tour and also manage it. He is a young man of about 27. And he has been in America a little more than six months. He now owns a villa at Newport. He was brought to America at the suggestion of Louis II. Chalf, a former favorite dancer of the Czar. At first he showed a bit of temper and it looked for a while like he would never appear before an American audience, but he relented and it is needless to say he is mighty glad of it.

Pondering
Have you ever gone a stroll?
On a Sunday afternoon,
And just stopped your self con-
trollin'?

So's to get yourself in tune?

And you wander through the hills,
Pluekin' flowers, kickin' clods;
Jest a breathin' air that thrills
And livin' eakly with gods.

Then you seek a moments shelter
Neath a gnarled chestnut tree;
And just watch the better skelter
Under Nature's canopy.

As you see these works of Nature
And her children of the wild;
You think of city hater
For all things meek and mild.

Wondering how foolish man
Nature's terrors so defies;
And you wonder yet again
How her blessings he denies.

Yet we wander day by day
Through this world of lasting strife,
On, until our game we play
Then we mutter, "Such is Life."

story at a luncheon in Lindsay, Okla.

"A boy," he said, "decided to fool his mother. Accordingly he ran into the sitting room and cried:

"Oh, ma, there's a strange man in the kitchen kissing the cook."

"With a determined frown his mother rose and hastened kitchen-ward. But just before she reached the door the boy laughed and said:

"No, it ain't a strange man,
ma. It's only father."

Ohio Is Rising Rapidly; No Danger Felt Here

"Unsettled weather conditions over upper Ohio Valley tonight and Wednesday. River at Portsmouth will continue rising today and will become nearly stationary Wednesday."

Local River Observer Fred Winter received the above message from Weather Forecaster Devereaux, of Cincinnati, Tuesday morning.

The Ohio river at present is rising at the rate of about 9 inches per hour.

The stage at 10 o'clock was 14.8 and at 7 o'clock the gauge showed a stage of 12.6, a rise of about 2.2 inches in three hours.

According to information given out at the wharfbat the Ohio here will reach about 20 feet before the crest of the rise is passed.

A stage of 22 or 23 feet is required to inundate the extreme lowlands and it is not believed that much of the bottom land corn, if any, will be reached by the present rise.

The Kanawha is falling at Charleston, but the Ohio is rising sharply from Pt. Pleasant down.

It is thought that the selection of the jury will require quite a length of time.

MAYOR HOLDS BUSY SESSION OF POLICE COURT MONDAY NIGHT

Notwithstanding the sweltering weather Monday evening a capacity audience curiously watched the proceedings of police court.

E. A. Donough and Morris Patton were arraigned on charges of fighting and disorderly conduct and both entered pleas of not guilty. There was trouble they both admitted but as to what weapons were used in the melee, neither could agree.

Fred Stone, a lad who said he was from West Union, claimed that Donough went to Patton's house one evening last week and upon knocking was admitted and invited to supper. The caller, according to the lad, demanded to know certain questions and a fight ensued in which Patton was first knocked down, then struck with a knife, then with an alarm clock and finally with a sugar bowl.

Patton says that Donough came to the house and was invited in. On being ushered into the front room of the home, Patton contended that his visitor in a very ugly manner demanded: "What did you tell Charles Schirrmann that I was drunk all the time and couldn't tend to my business for?"

This started the trouble in which the visitor is said to have slapped Patton. Patton says he fell against a dresser and it upset throwing a clock within his reach which he seized and used it on his adversary.

The scene of the battle shifted to the kitchen when Mrs. Patton took a hand, the witness declared, and he was just in the act of hurling a pot of boiling coffee upon the visitor when his wife succeeded in pushing him out of the house.

Donough avers that he called and asked Patton the question referred to and was called a name and he struck Patton. He claims that Patton used a clock upon his head and then the fight changed from the front room to the kitchen where the owner of the house seized a razor. Then he says that he started to leave and before doing so invited Patton to come outside, razor and all.

Mayor Kaps stated at the conclusion of the trial that he would reserve his decision until further investigations were made.

A boarder, a man and his wife were the principals in the next case called for hearing. William Myers had been arrested at the instigation of Oscar Hughes, a boarder, charging assault. Myers, the accused, immediately filed an affidavit charging Hughes with co-habiting with his wife, Florence Myers, and then preferred a similar charge against Mrs. Myers. All three pleaded not guilty and each with their own witnesses gave their side.

Oscar Hughes claimed that he had been at Louis Distel's saloon one evening last week when Myers wandered in and asked him to go outside with him. Together they left and on reaching the railroad, Hughes says that Myers made a lunge at him with a knife. Then Hughes says he fled.

Myers claimed that he had questioned Hughes about his alleged relations with Mrs. Myers, and Hughes started to run and he endeavored to seize him.

Mrs. Myers strenuously denied the charges and had several of her neighbors to testify that her character was good.

The case was dismissed by the mayor on account of the lack of evidence to prove a single charge of the three.

Ben Neighbors pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was released from custody with out a fine. "Ben, I want to congratulate you," said Mayor Kaps, "this is the first time you have been here this year and for that I will dismiss the charge. Now be careful that you are not brought back."

Visiting and keeping a house, for immoral purposes were the charges upon which three women and one man giving the following names were arraigned: Mrs. Ed Hicks, Margaret Jones and Clara Jenkins, both of Ironton, and Charles Johnson. Not guilty were the pleas entered by the quartet.

Mrs. Hicks, who lives at 1826 Eighth street, was charged with keeping a disorderly house and neighbors testified that they had seen men and women entering and leaving the house at all hours of the night.

In explanation, Mrs. Hicks said that Clara Jenkins was her niece from Ironton who was on a visit with her friend, Margaret Jones, and that the girls had entertained callers on a few occasions but not often. She admitted that there had been beer at her home several times but denied any wrong doings.

The two girls corroborated Mrs. Hicks and Charles Johnson, when arraigned, alleged that he had gone to the house to see the Jenkins girl when the police swooped down and gathered in the whole party.

The evidence produced, the mayor held, was not of sufficient weight, to hold them on the charges so he dismissed the affidavits with the understanding that the girls were to leave the Hicks home.

TAKES NICE SLAP AT HERRICK LEAGUE

Relative to the contentions of the Herrick Voters' League of the several counties, officials of the Daugherty Campaign Club of Scioto County, made public the following statement issued by W. E. Haller, of Columbus, chairman of the Daugherty senatorial campaign:

"The so-called 'Herrick Voters' League Clubs are largely paper organizations.' In some instances, gross misrepresentation has been resorted to, to convey the idea to the Republican voters of the state that there was a strong movement for the nomination of Mr. Herrick.

"I have a statement, signed by more than thirty Republicans of Darke county, alleging that their names were used on the stationery of a Herrick Voters' League, or Club, and were published as members of such league, or club, without their knowledge and without their consent.

"They have repudiated the action of the organizers of this league, or club, in a published statement. I have letters of a similar nature from Republicans in other counties. There is no idea, of course, that Mr. Herrick is a party to this sort of misrepresentation as to the position of prominent Republicans in the state. There is abundant evidence, however, that some of the men who are employed by the managers of his campaign, have resorted to this character of work to deceive the voters of the state and to leave Mr. Herrick under the impression they were bringing about the results for which they were engaged."

Another Machine Stolen; Found On Summit Street

Close upon the news of the theft of a Ford touring car from the Independent Taxi company came the announcement Monday night that a new Overland touring car belonging to William H. Wanser, 1235 Third street, had been stolen from in front of the Columbia theatre.

It was a daring theft and one which has characterized the actions of the automobile thieves that have been operating in this city for the past three weeks. The car was found this morning on Summit street.

Within the shadows of the Columbia theatre, and in plain view of a large number of people, the Wanser machine was taken and driven away. Mr. and Mrs. Wanser and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Frank drove up in front of the Smith's bakery Monday evening, about eight-thirty o'clock, and stopped. They climbed out of the machine and left it standing there while they went to the Columbia theatre. "Before we went in," said Mrs. Wanser, Tuesday, "we were undecided whether to leave our wraps, but finally decided to take them along."

About nine-thirty o'clock the theatre party came out and discovered their machine was gone. A hurried search of the near vicinity was made and then the police were notified. But no trace of the machine was found until this morning, when it was learned there was an abandoned car on Summit street. It proved to be the Wanser machine. The car was not damaged.

The first car to be taken was the Ed T. Welch car, which was stolen from his garage and driven about eighty miles before it was deserted.

This car was found. Charles Winder's car was the next to be taken, but was later found. It was stolen while standing in front of the Trinity M. E. church.

Will Hott's machine was stolen from in front of the Bigelow M. E. church not long afterwards. It has not been located.

Charles Hott's automobile was taken from in front of the Ohio Valley bank and was later found.

Then John C. Bauer's car was stolen from in front of the Columbia theatre and was later recovered undamaged.

Sunday night a stranger hired a Ford touring car from the Independent Taxi company and was driven to Ironton. After the car was placed in a garage and the driver taken to a hotel, the stranger returned and took the machine.

Bike Rider Run Down By A Ford, Painfully Hurt

Fred Hasselman, N. & W. call and an employee of Smittle Temple billiard parlor, received severe bruises and lacerations when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a Ford automobile driven by an unidentified man. The accident occurred at Gallia and Young streets about six o'clock Monday evening.

Hasselmann, who is 21, was on his way to call a railroad man on Gallia street at the time of the accident. He was coming south on Young street and the automobile came on Young street from Gallia at a fair rate of speed. According to Hasselman, the automobile made a wide turn around the corner and crashed into him. Hasselman and bicycle were thrown to the paved street. The automobile, occupied by several grown people, did not stop to see if he was hurt, but sped on down Robinson avenue. Hasselman walked to his home at 2317 Grant street. Dr. Carl Braunlin was called and found Hasselman suffering with a laceration of the left elbow, contusion of the chest, and half of right leg badly bruised.

Fred Kennell, a brickworker, until recently employed with Kelly Bros., at Portsmouth, was the leading man and he was a badly mangled hero before the mill was done. Clarke Cornutte and son Jim, Will and Sreman Scott, Grant Finley and other colored men are said to have been members of the supporting cast, but they didn't support. Part of the matter is, they made Kennell look like an advertisement for a third rate hospital and he will be several weeks recovering from a severe cut just above the right eye, which he claims was inflicted by Will Scott, with a fence picket.
